JOHN 9:3-9

³So Peter and the other disciple started for the tomb. ⁴Both were running, but the other disciple outran Peter and reached the tomb first. ⁵He bent over and looked in at the strips of linen lying there but did not go in. ⁶Then Simon Peter came along behind him and went straight into the tomb. He saw the strips of linen lying there, ⁷as well as the cloth that had been wrapped around Jesus' head. The cloth was still lying in its place, separate from the linen. ⁸Finally the other disciple, who had reached the tomb first, also went inside. He saw and believed. ⁹(They still did not understand from Scripture that Jesus had to rise from the dead.)

LIVING THE LITURGY

Easter Mercy

Today we culminate the most important days of the year, The Easter Triduum. That word, "triduum," comes from the Latin for "three days." Recalling the events of Holy Thursday, Good Friday, and Easter Sunday, we live once again the wondrous things that Christ Jesus did in order to reconcile us with God and free us from the power of sin and death. These great events, the most important in all human history, confront us with the immense and amazing truth of God's infinite mercy. True, we celebrate the Sunday after Easter as Divine Mercy Sunday, but it is God's mercy that is the root of our celebration.

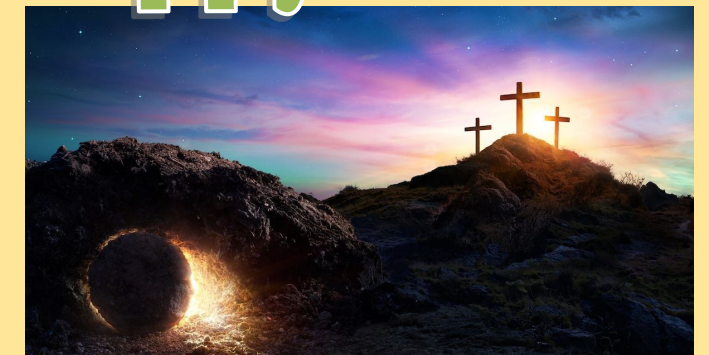

Saint Thérèse of Lisieux, Carmelite Nun and Doctor of the Church, wrote extensively about the mercy of God. She lived during a time when popular spirituality emphasized God's justice against the reality of our sinfulness. At the end of her book, Story of a Soul, Saint Thérèse, nearing the end of her life, and about to go to God, wrote, "No, there is no one who could frighten me, for I know too well what to believe concerning His Mercy and His Love. I know that this whole multitude of sins would be lost in the twinkling of an eye like a drop of water cast into a burning furnace."

May we never despair of God's mercy.
 Happy Easter!

Alleluia! He Is Risen!

Upon this wonderful day of Easter, the Day of the Resurrection of our Lord, Jesus Christ, Father Paul, Father Pablo, and Father Marlon wish to extend a prayerful and heartfelt blessing of grace and favor to All the Men and Women and Girls and Boys, of the Parish, young and old alike.

Happy Easter!

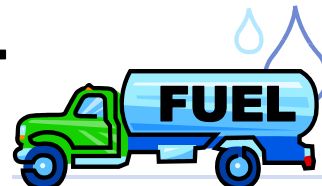

May His Soul Rest in Peace
Michael L. Cuomo
